

IMPORTANT: You May Qualify for CARES Act Economic Impact Payments - Act by October 15, 2020!!

What are CARES ACT Economic Impact payments? It is money from the government aimed at helping people and the economy due to coronavirus (COVID-19).

Why am I hearing about this now? The IRS was refusing to give people CARES Act relief payments if they were incarcerated. A federal judge in Scholl v. Mnuchin, No. 4:20-cv-5309-PJH (N.D. Cal.) ordered the IRS to give people payments if they qualify for them, even if incarcerated. If you did not get a payment because you were incarcerated and you qualify, you can get a payment if you send in a form quickly (see instructions below)!

Who is eligible for an Economic Impact Payment? You are eligible if all of the following are true:

- You are a U.S. Citizen or Legal Permanent Resident;
- You were not claimed as a dependent on another person's tax return;
- Your 2019 income was below $75,000 for individuals / $150,000 for couples filing taxes jointly;
- If you are married or if you have qualifying children, your spouse and your children have a valid Social Security Number. (This restriction does not apply if you or your spouse served in the Armed Forces in 2019.)

If I am eligible, how much will my payment be? Up to $1,200 if you filed individually (yourself) or $2,400 if you filed taxes jointly with a spouse, plus $500 per qualifying child. (Payments are lower for individuals with incomes over $75,000 and couples who filed jointly with incomes over $150,000.)

Note: If you have a bank account, the IRS could deposit the money into the account, if you request this on your IRS form, rather than send a check to the prison. Most checks sent to people in CDCR prisons have 55% deducted (50% to pay restitution and the remainder as an administrative fee). However, specifying another person's bank account or address risks the government delaying or denying the payment. In addition, the IRS will deduct past owed child support debt.

What do I need to do to receive a payment? It depends.

- If you filed a 2018 or 2019 tax return or if you receive Social Security or Railroad Retirement Benefits, you need not take action (except update any address/bank info that changed). You should receive an automatic payment in the mail or bank account on your tax filings.
- If you did not file a 2018 or 2019 tax return and your income was below $12,200 (or $24,400 if filing jointly), but you are eligible as defined above, you must take action by October 15 to receive an advance payment. If you are in California, you can file a claim using the enclosed paper form, by mail postmarked on or by October 15 to:
Department of the Treasury
Internal Revenue Service
Fresno, CA 93888-0002

If you do not reside in California, please see the list of filing addresses on the next page.
Instructions and a sample also are enclosed.
